Prologue

The invention of VRMOBA will change ever gamer's playing style making them have more fun than ever. If you dont know about MOBA, it's multiplayer online battle arena: a genre of online real-time strategy video games in which two teams of characters compete head-to-head with the goals of protecting their home base and destroying the towers, turrets, or other structures of the opposing team's stronghold (often used attributively). Here in Japan the 1st ever VRMOBA will be realising and everyone is out in stores to buy copies of the game.

A huge floating landscape battlefield map containing 3 towers per lane of each side by 3 lanes and a Base at each teams corner surrounded by Inhibitor turrets to cover up the Base turret each team has 5 players which will clash on the battlefield. The areas that are outside the lanes are the Jungle area where players kill jungle monsters to gain xp and gold. Below the Floating Battlefield Maps is the Main City of Players Unite where players can talk to each other, make friends and have fun.

This place is the waiting are for match making collecting free daily items like Coins for buying a Character to use in battles, or use it in other ways on the Shop and Crystals to Buy Skins for the Characters, these skins are the ones that makes your individual Character's some cool new color, clothes and skill effects.

Upon Chosing whether your a Male or a Female every Characters in the game you'll buy will be in which Gender you chose, if you pick Male and all the Characters will be Male. Like the MOBA on your Mobile Phone or Computers its similar to VRMOBA on Rules but the gaming style and strategy will be different from a 3rd Person Perspective View

Let the 1st VRMOBA Bigin!, Lets Go! «Players Unite»!

The excitement of the crowd buying the 1st ever VRMOBA took my attention from entering the Mall. I got curious about the game so i thought to buy one for my self to try this game. It seems cool so i used my allowance to buy the game. When i got home i put on my Neurolink to play the game thats everyone's excited at. I slot the game and turned on the Neurolink to start.

Upon entering this kind of world the first thing i saw is a holographic screen where I make my profile for the game, There's a box where i enter my name I will use my name then "YanKuraido" and turn it in to Hiragana making it into "やんくらいど". Gender - Male, ok I'm done making my Profile let's enter this!.

After confirming the identity of my profile theirs a voice saying, "Welcome Player やんくらいど", and I got teleported.

Having that teleport was amazing but the fact that when I looked in the mirror's reflection is that I saw my real face and body on this VR world. That was a shocking for me, using my real face in a digital world. So that's why there's something lazing me on the Neurolink, I didn't know that it has this kind of feature!. Can I feel pain in here too?, Hmmm guess I try jumping into that high mountain up there and try for myself!

"Yahoo!... Owww!"

Well that didn't hurt much hmm it seems the system has a pain reduction system to feel some of the pain but not much. HUUUUU! Im so exited to play I should go now to the tutorial mode.

Chapter 1

After transporting to the tutorial mode the system gave me my 1st Character to use for the Tutorial and VRMOBA itself. Its name is Dartex and its a marksman, on this tutorial there's an NPC teaching me how to use Basic Attacks, Battle Spells, Skills, and Items.

"Hiyaaaaa!"

I tested my first skill into the enemy minions it seems to be strong im still level 1 but it cut the minions HP bar Half. Basic Attacks are strong too, and I tried looking into something that reflects like a mirror to check my face and as I thought its my real face on Dartex's Character form.

"Its so cool!!!"

Its time for me to finish up the Tutorial it seems that its like any other MOBA tutorial that I should also destroy the turret on this one way area until I reach the base to destroy it too to win this.

"Haaaaa!"

An AI has appeared here and its time to test my skills 1st Skill [Moon Blast], It hit the AI Character named Cheka its Character Role is a Mage. I checked my stats and my Magical Defense is only 16 because im still level 2 I'll try avoiding its attacks then.

This time I'll test out my 2nd Skill [Cut Through] using this will poke my opponent and after that I'll use my 1st Skill to finish it off soon.

Okay, I defeated Cheka that easily because its just an AI, so its time for destroying turrets called "Push". Basic Attacks a the only method of Pushing Turrets, and I think there are some Characters that have skills that enhances their Basic Attacks for higher Push Damage for turrets.

Chapter 1

And... I finally destroy the 1st turret one more and its the Inhibitor turret the turret that covers up the base turret. And Cheka had revived, but I'll beat you again!, I am now getting the hang of this this is so much fun than playing on my phone and my computer.

"Yes! Im now level 4!"

Upon reaching level 4 I can now use ny Ultimate Skill the "Dark Force", its a Morf Skill it turns my Character into a monster and increases my stats, it seems that in this form i cant use ny 1st Skill and 2nd Skill but on the other hand there's no time limit to this skill I can deactivate and activate this whenever I want!.

"Ha~Ha! Cheka get ready!"

After destroying Cheka again I now cleared the minion waves too, minion waves are group invation of minions in a lane clearing them will allow my team's minions to attack the enemy Turrets so our Characters will not get huge damage from that turet.

Behind each base is the fountain its diameter is a healing place for each team if you step into a enemy's fountain your HP will start to decrease and you will eventually die.

"Victory!"

I destroyed the base and finished up my tutorial mode, my account went up to level 2 and obtained Dartex. Then I collected some of the collectable items and I'll be logging out soon. VRMOBA is fun i wondered if it felt more fun if i played on 5v5 mode on players vs player in Match Up mode. I Guess I will try tommorow its already 10pm!? Well I'm doomed.

Chapter 1

The morning sun rises and I'll make breakfast for myself as usual. Having no one here is boring, i cooked breakfast at 8 and ate quickly to play Players Unite hoping to find some friends to play with.

I picked up the Neurolink and activated it, upon my login I got stumbled on a rock and got tripped but i got my balance on grabbing a stranger. Not noticing that I grabbed a girl's hands, she seems embarrassed and I'm also embarrassed because of the people staring at us holding hands. The girl slapped me while saying "Pervert!".

As an apology I'll do what she want for 3 days the girl accepted my offer and slapped me again.

"Wait what did I do now?"

-Nothing particular!...

Thinking what I have done and seing the girl's face getting red and laughing so I ended up laughing too. She told me her In Game Name was Shikari. She was my 1st registered friend on this game.

Every game she made me use Brock a Tank Role Character in this game jst to protect her, I don't really mind as long as we get to play this game as a team.

Seeing her cute face laughing when I die because I saved her again, me who's always a sacrifice, but makes me relief its like i really want to save her everytime she's in danger. I have this weird feeling that I dont like to see her get beaten up by the enemy. We're still complete stranger so I just throw away what I feel.3 days have passed and I finally get to make my own choices. I invited her to play one Match Up mode.

She accepted the invitation and we teleported to the lobby and started the matching up. We got a match up by noobs so I picked Dartex for a reliable late game Character. Shikari said to me that I should have fun this time and show her that i can kill many enemy Characters.

So I started to clear up the minion waves and head to the jungle area to gain more XP for leveling up. I took one buff to lessen the mana cost of my skills. A player using Tori a Fighter, since fighter Characters are tough so I'm thinking of a strategy to take it down.

By the time I got an idea for this situation, while the enemy is busy on trying to Push i cornered it and drew in the wrong direction and called Shikari to finish our enemy off.

I felt sorry for beating up the enemy so bad, I didn't know its a girl and its crying like crazy for what I did. I said that this is just a game I didn't hurt her on the real world even if this is like the real thing because we're like here and all. Then to finish this problem up me and Shikari wiped out all the enemy and Push to finish the game while the rest of our team takes the Goblin King, after killing the Goblin King if will serve of who ever team kills him, giving buffs to the minions and make a big push to win. After all the trouble the cry baby girl was also a biginer messaged me and said, "Hey! Back me up i need to get my rank up" well that was a surprise for me after all that happened.

We registered each other and make friends since then i teached the two of statistical strategies on winning games like this, we memorized all the stats of items, hero stats, and to use our knowledge of this game we practiced on the Custom Mode of the game to practice our knowledge about the stats here so we can take advantage of things going around here.

After finishing up with the practice of the things we can come up with the stats we tried to play a Match Up mode to try on real players we tried to apply our knowledge of statistics of the game and challenge our selves to gain 20+ kills in this game.

We had so much fun playing together and share some of our common knowledge makes our advantage on winning this game. At the end i got 31 Kills Shikari got 23 and cry baby Chizuru got 3 kills but have the highest assist which is 54, and basically the rest of our random match up team got no kills we may have overdoing it.

At the end of that game we came to the Main City and have some Avarar and Character shopping, buying decent clothes for our Avatar and for Our Character's Skin also.

Come to thing of if this is more like an RPG game but the gameplay is different. Here in Dreamyad is more amazing in real world everyone is having fun playing, where enemies become friends.

Me and my tram came to the beach side of the Dreamyad to watch the beautiful sunset of the game. As dark is showing mushrooms becomes to glow and fireflies appear. Chizuru and Shikari tried to catch one while I enjoy the Ocean Breeze come to me while I'm taking a nap on the grass patches.

Minutes gone by and Shikari wakes me up telling me that she will logout the same with Chizuru because its already late, and I stand up and gonna go logout too. Checking the time is its already 8pm and tomorrow's Sunday the last day of the weekend I'll double check my answers for my assignments on Science and Math.

The day starts of monday like any other school days I woke up early to cook, brush and take a bath after going to school. Its now about 6 in the morning i packed up and took my bike to go, when suddenly there's a girl that's looks like Shikari in a car heading to our school campus, I tried to go fast as I can to try to chat with her.

As the winds counter my speed I began to slow down and couldn't catch up into her, that's when I came to the faculty on recess time to check for some named Shikari that entered this school I searched all documents and asked all teachers but there's no student named Shikari that's when I realized that Shikari is just her In Game Name.

I came back to my room and the teacher is announcing that there are new students that will be transferred here on our class. The first one came and it looks like Chizuru the second one came also and it looks like Shikari im thinking if this is a coincidence or something like that but my fellow game friends are here being transferred to our class. I wiped my eyes and pinched my cheeks hoping that this is not a dream, after confirming it I was surprised that I was just asleep and when i look at my side and front seat mate its someone different, that's because they requested to the teacher to sit over there.

"Woahhhh I wasn't dreaming in the first place?"

I was shocked that these are really my Game Buddies and they said, "you are really dreaming in the first place but its true that we're here". At the end of class everyone is asking questions about the new transfered students, instead of answering their questions they came to me and pulled me out of my seat, and we chatted with each other asking questions, I asked why did they transferred here and said that their previous school was burned by an explosion at the Science Lab so there's no other choice to transfer to other schools they seemed to stalk my fb account to check out my school. The thing is i was also shocked that that they are also classmates on their previous school.

I asked for their real names on walking at the halls and they said that their In Game Name is their real name, and I said that they should not used their real name for security purposes. At the end of that I was still surprised that my game friends are here being my classmates.

"Lets Go Guys!"

After class Shikari invited us to play together at a VRSHOP for one game for our first meet up game, having them around feels weird and making me motivated to do my best. The three of us made our own team handshake before playing, one things that left is our team name that gave us big-time on just thinking about it. We aimed to be the best players of the game while having fun. We defeated every players along our way, we haven't got slayed and our win streak won't end.

There are 7 Ranks on this game Bronze the lowest rank and has 3 tiers, Silver is next and has also 3 tiers, next is Gold that have 4 tiers, Platinum has 5, Crystal has 5 and There's Champion that has 5 here it ranks points not like the other ranks that's ranked on stars gained after you reach 1000 points you will be promoted on Legendary where you continue your points to become a top player.

Our current ranking is Crystal III we all each have 5 stars and by the time we win again we will advance to Crystal IV still a long way to go but is we keep wining by our knowledge of math and science we still might win every game and beat the top to become the top.

We're so happy because in just 3 days we reach Crystal IV we played alot and were happy to have each others back friends like this is precious to me one thing I want for us is to be more closer, and the three of us to be an unstoppable players.

It's already 8pm I decided to make them go home safely that's why I carried the two of them at my bike Shikari's at the back because Chizuru's not good at balance, our first route is Chizuru's house because its the nearest and we came to a back alley for a short cut but unfortunately a gang of guys stoped us and started harassing the girls good thing that i have my steel rod from the schools curtain.

"Good thing that I forgot to return this"

I rushed in to fight the gang, the movement is just like in the game for me I got the hang of it in no time and beat the half of the gang the girls also want to have fun so they picked up the enemy's batt and fought the rest of the gang.

"Hey YanKuraido this is like the game its fun!"

Well im surprised that Chizuru and Shikari said that so we had a little exercise untill the curfew got us. The Police picked up the gang and we got invited to the police station to report the scene. They can't believe that we took out the strongest gang in the city by just the three of us the about 20 of them that didn't include their boss so their gang is still active, but that's not our concern anymore asling as we're safe.

Chapter 2

The police asked how... " How did you beat up the strongest gang? And just the three of you?! " Well I first explain that we know where and how they will attack its just a matter of Psychology and Statistics.

"Or in other words officer we aim to be top players on Players Unite!"

We explained how we trained in the game and also how we studied and perfected our strategy for this kinds of fight, the police mens are shocked and we are now on the news papers, television and radio.

Media companies wants to interview us and I had a great idea!. For using my brain I told the media that in order to interview us uour company must give us supplies for our VRMOBA for training and study purposes. Two companies agreed and they gave us Big-time Allowance and 6 Neurolink and 6 Copies of the game. There we had an interview on the media andthesame time happy at what I did.

"Haha! Jeez Kuraido that's dirty!"

Shikari laughed and called me Kuraido, and that gave me and Chizuru to laugh to because we took advantage on the media.

The interview was finished and Chizuru thought of something great, that we make a school club for us to play Players Unite for studying Statistics, Psychology, Science and Martial Arts. I made a proposal for our Club at the school but!...BUT!!, The Student Council President Yashima Minori said that we need at least 5 members to be approved and have an adviser.

"Well that ruined our day"

We got the computer science teacher Mr. Nagami he likes playing and programming games we easily got him as an adviser but the two members we need is still a Big ZERO!

At the time Shikari open her Facebook account she saw the Twin Streamers playing Players Unite, those were the Tank-Support duo Yoshiro and Yashira their the same age like us (15) their in class B just our neighbor cause we're on class A. We talked about the plan to convince the Twin to join us.

Its time!, Recess has started we executed our plan smoothly trapping the Twins in a corner to talk to them and our efforts got to waste, our efforts on making that plan in the first place. It got ruined by just these words, "Hey aren't you Taroshigu YanKuraido? Hey can we join your Team in Players Unite? We're a big fan of you three!". Efforts wasted by we got new allies bringing us more closer to our dream of becoming the strongest Team in Players Unite.

"Ehhhhhhh?!"

The twins are shocked to know that there's so many things we studied to become who we are on these game. "Your not joking in the TV YanKuraido!" After 2 hours of statistics lessons and 3 ours of psychology and martial arts in the game we tried it now on Ranked Games we didn't join to observe and so that they can reach Crystal IV, their current ranking is Crystal III this wont be easy but their trying their best to reach us. After sometime they managed to get the hang of it and reached Crystal IV. I came back to the Student Council Room to make another proposal for the Electroknowledge Club, a wired I mean weird name but that's what I got think of the best so we just accepted it. Its more important is that we had our club and new friends.

Chapter 3

The class is about to finish Chizuru passed me a note saying, "Lets play PsU after class, the 5 of us". Then I also passed it into Shikari, we all came to our club room, I came to class B's room to call the twins to ave our club activities while the two girls prepare the Neurolinks that I got free from the media. As the things are ready we all logged in together and an event popped up.

"Battle Royale"

This event is an all out war so we planned a strategy to win there will be 100 players in the map making camp farming and killing other teams, this can be easy for us. As planned the twins have Chizuru's back, mage needs tibe protected, while me and Shikari will be on assassination duty. We'll wipe our the players on the surrounding area without the enemy noticing us. The event also need us to collect coins the copper, silver and gold ones, 10 copper is equal to one silver and 10 silver is equal to one gold, they can be exchanged into Characters that we can use in the game.

The players we killed said that, "dont be to confident their here". He's really talking about a strong team that joined the Battle Royale Event maybe one of the top Legendary players in PsU. So Shikari and I split up to investigate about the top players here while the rest of the team will collect coins for points.

"BOOOMMMMM!!"

An explosion occurred at the center of the map, it could be a trap to lure enemy so I jumped into trees for safety and checked the perimeter and saw strong players invading lots of players camping near them they have one complete roled team, they have all the role types. A complete balance of teams. I got an idea to take them down, since their support is the one responsible for the durability of their team I'll contact shikari to assassinate the support while I'll got for the marksman, the rest of our team makes a distraction for us to execute our moves. Chizuru used a explosive skill to take the enemy's attention and drew them to our trap that's when they leave their marksman and support behind, we used and invisible item droped by the opponent we killed and rushed to the enemy. After taking the lives the their two members we made an opening for Chizuru to attack the enemy.

Since magical damage is the strongest offense and every Characters are low at magical defense we told Chizuru to use the strongest Mage Character in the game Brage, it has 1000 times the damage of the magical damage you have on your item it can bring down a whole team in one shot.

"ZzpBooommm!"

We thought that the skill finished off the top players but their tank endured most of the damage the three of them are at their low health they attempted to attack Chizuru good thing that the twins follow up is fast and we came quickly to finish them off. They countered our moves and gave us a knock back. Their fighter charged in and their assasin is missing, I signaled Shikari and I approached the fighter to ave a face to face combat along with their tank, I knew their heroes skill but just starting to learn their movements. The winds blow the their assasin revealed himself and charged into Chizuru but Shikari blocked her skill as their girl fight is on I'm just buying time for Chizuru's skill to cool down and use another for the enemy.

Chapter 3

And as for the crazy things happened today we finally got through that and managed to get 1st place. And got our selves some credits, the makers of PsU made a video clip from our gameplay and used it as an add for their game and since then some of the top players wanted to have a match to our team.

"Yahooooo"

The scream of the twins saying yahoo is their joy of having a thousand subscribers in YouTube and we also got a lot of friend request its like the things happed when we got in the media for our city gang raid. But for the sake of our future we also study during our time and must get ready for examinations so our parents will not ban us from playing PsU.

We all decided to walk home together since its night time and we're still in the school, teachers and guards aren't usually angry at this so they guided us our of the school. But its up to us to protect our selves for weirdos out in the night. Well for me its like a daily routine to take things like metal rods and the school canteen's knife for my safety and my hands to play with on my way home. This once saved our lives an we became famous, I wont hesitate to bring this again with me.

Since I'm more we'll trained on fighting I always lead my team wether on Virtual Reality or in Real Life. Our safety first so I gave my friends some tools they will be needing to go home safe, we started to make Chizuru home safe first, as we pass the school front gate I checked the surrounding area for danger. On confirming that the are is now safe we continue our journey home. "Hey what about a little story for you twins needs to know, we're passing the back alley where we beat up the City Gang's Wanted Group"

Chapter 3

On walking around the dark street I feel like someone is watching all of us so I prepared my steel rod and signaled Shikari to warn the others. And as expected we are now surrounded by the ones watching us, all of them approached us and covered the whole area so we can't escape.

"Wa Ha Ha Ha!"

After we got cornered a strange voice laughing at us and he angrily said, "so you think you can get away on what you did to my gang hughh?!". And it seems they have a gun so we settled for a minute and relaxed so we can think.

And then their boss identified himself, he said his name was Iori the leader of the skull gang, they killed and robbed lots of people within this area and as for we putting the rest of his gang in jail, he said that how can I have a nerve to do that.

I picked up a rock and thrown it East of their boss's view for Shikari to make her chance to target the gun using the sling shot I gave her, and then Chizuru will use the explosives that i took from the Science Lab's cabinet its a mixture of Potassiums and Chlorine giving it oxygen will burn and explode!.

By the twins clear the area by smacking the other with hammer that I also took from school giving me space to approach their boss, but its not easy to approach him his gang covered their boss and tried to stop me but I wacked them below the belt and saying, "your Jr. will never b born!". And as they kneel due to their pain I use them as a booster by jumping into them and quickly smack their annoying boss. Until!... He found his gun and he run quick to get it and shoot at me.

"Click!, BOOM!"

-no! Kuraido!, As they all cried that i got shot they finished up lori and called the police. I called all of them to say these words while I'm so uneasy to breathe, I hugged all of them at once and said, "Sorry guys...".

They we're all crying and saying things that made me happy like when we met each other, and all the fun we had. Through that my eyes are now getting weak and I can't breathe normally anymore. I held everyone's hands and said Thank You For everything. When the police arrived I closed my eyes and passed out.

All of them crying as they see me not moving anymore Shikari kissed me in the cheeks and said, "I was too late to say what I feel about you". Then thunder strikes at the sky and started raining. The Police picked up my body and they about to take it to their car we all had a ride. And they thought is was the last bonding we had. They thought I had died and then I said, "Its a Prank!!!".

They we're so shocked and happy that I'm alive and angry that I pranked them good time, they all pinched me and I said sorry to stop their pinching because it hurts. Despite all that their just happy that I didn't die, it was just the ketchup from the school canteen that I put on my pocket this morning I must have been stabbed it during the fight so that gave me the idea to prank them. I didn't really got hit I managed to avoid the gun by kicking the tip of the gun.

So then I asked Shikari on what she's talking about that she didn't say to me, that she was too late to say what she feels. She's acting weird and nervous, and don't admit that there's something she said to me back there.

Anyways we all got scolded after we got home because our parents knew what happened. Good thing that we're not banned on playing PsU. We all meet up in the game and we discussed about the new event that's coming this weekend there will be the twenty first and twenty second Character that will be released and it's a Tank/Support a multi role Character. This will be perfect for Yoshiro and Yashira. Not just that it's a perfect Character for them but in the story of these Characters is that they're also twins their Kimitsugi and Yakana. Yakana is a Tank/Support Role its skills are heal, shield and crowd control or CC for short as for Kimitsugi its skills are charge&CC, heal, and also Crowd Control. Their best for giving us some shield to depend on.

So in order to Yoshiro and Yashira be able to buy that we played Ranked Games for extra coins to buy the Characters. I invited them and after they accepted we all got teleported to the lobby and get ready for the match up. When everyone is ready I clicked the start button and we got teleported to the match up, we can see in the screen who will be our enemy. And down we go as the players all entered a confirmation, we each pick our Characters to use in the battle. I got the first pick I took the marksman Dartex then the enemy's turn to choose. They have chosen Firga a Mage and the other is Phione a Marksman, and my friend's turn they picked their Tank and Support Yoshiro picked Brock a Tank and Yashira picked Hillia a Support. The enemy took Groiler a Fighter and Syntia an Assassin. Then Chizuru took Brage the strongest Mage Character and Shikari took Zician the fastest assassin. Then the last member of our enemy took Cranium and it's a tough Tank Character.

The battle is starting and we got teleported to the battle field of Dreamyard and there's the voice saying, "Let's Go! «Players Unite»!"

Chapter 3

As planned we clear all the minion waves and proceed to the enemy buffs, a buff is a kind of Jungle Monster taht when you kill it it will enhance you stats thats why its called a buff. Taking them is not easy so we'll have to steal it from the enemy itself. Theirs a battle spell for that its the Soul Eater it has a 2000 Penetrant Damage to Jungle Monsters so we'll just wait for them to lower the HP and we'll go and steal it from them.

The Jungle Monster's HP droped to 1534 Shikari used the Soul Eater and Steal the buff. She ran towards a bush where we're hiding to ambush them, just like we planned they follow her and we got the First Blood.

Through that it seems the enemy is so angry at us and tried to ambush Shikari but they dont even noticed that i got my self stronger from minion wave clearing and Jungle Monster Faming, I wiped then all out like it was nothing to me, "good stats are good performance". That saying that cane from me is my Inspiration of winning this game.

10 minutes have gone by and we managed to destroy 7 turrets, the Bottom Lane is now clear from turret we now aim for the Goblin King. Since im the fastest to kill this thing I'm in charge of that, then Shikari nd the others protect and roam the surrounding area for the enemies. There's a 100 in percent chance that the enemy will attack us from behind so the others are patrolling while I'm taking the life of the Goblin King. Minutes after that we got the Goblin King's boost and push to victory. We have a total of 37 Kills and the enemy has zero kills. They can't kill us because where more experienced in real combat. And our physical training and studies on Math and Science we can apply those things in the game. The golds we collected during the match is being converted to coins which can be used in buying Characters in the game. When the game is over we all said good night to each other and we all Logged Out to sleep.

The new Characters had come and the twins are really getting pumped up to get them when we go to our club room for the activities the twins are waiting and seems happy to get the new Characters.

This time before we go dive into the Virtual Reality we stretched out, drink some water and calm our minds, then go!. We all rushed into the Character shop to purchase the new Characters for Yoshiro and Yashira.

"Yey we got a new hero sis!". "Yeah and i bet its tough too!"

For their Characters we also bought some skins for them to use as an accessory to make them look good. I invited the whole team to play one Match Up mode so the twins can try their new Characters. But before that we need to research about these new Characters, on about their stats and skills, we need to know how they function, whats their weakness and strength.

We trained in the match up mode to study and make something out of it in the future battles. Since this is a match up mode I thought of a plan to make them have a nice practice, and some great practice dummy. We used assassin in this match up mode to kidnap the players and use them as a practice dummy. We made them our test subjects for the meantime.

Haha well what we have done is too cruel the match only lasted about ten minutes because they all initiated a surrender. We now kinda look like an evil scientist experimenting moves for the players, and that kinda scared players we up against with. So much had happened these days we enjoyed being with each other we all hoped this will never end.
